Pictured on the opposite page is the Senior Reception, and above is a scene from the faculty picnic. These are just two of the many social events that affect the faculty members and the students at South Side and give the pupils a chance to work together and mature socially. Of course, this is just a minor part of the life at school.

It is the purpose of the entire school system to aid students and help them to become respectable citizens of the world. Besides this, schools must build students' bodies through gym classes and intramural and varsity sports, in order to build healthy citizens.

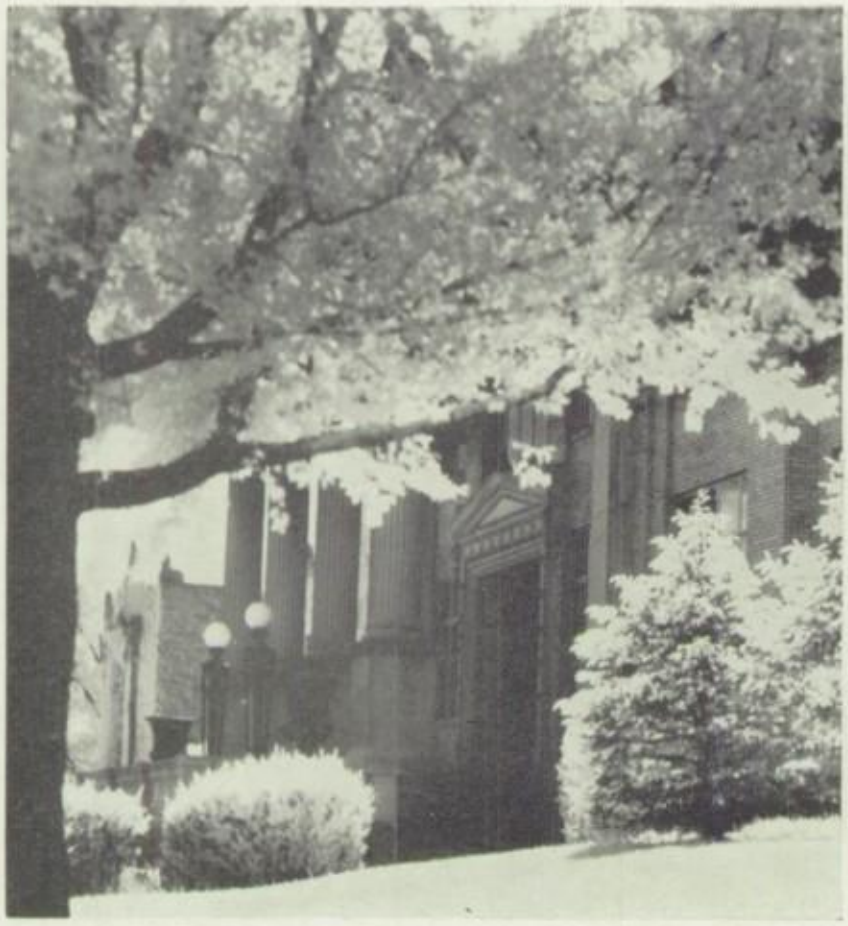
It is easy to see that all Fort Wayne public schools strive to improve their students mentally, socially, and physically.

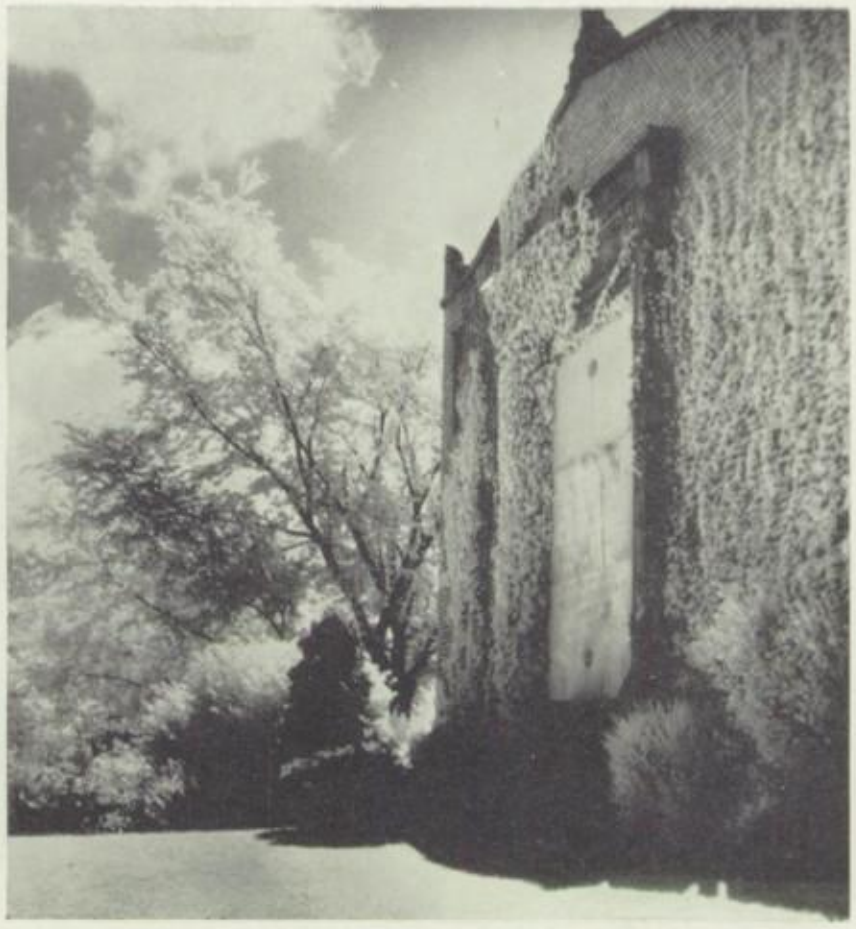
Through our divisions of classes, faculty, sports, clubs and events, we present evidence of the way in which South Side carries out this program.

This is Our School . . .

Education at South Side is much more than that which can be obtained from textbooks alone. South Side, through its three courses, business, general, and college prep, gives students the chance to improve themselves along lines best fitted to their interests and ability. These courses are accompanied by varied physical education programs which help build Archers into physically fit citizens.

We can never forget our club activities and the chance South Side has given us to get together with our friends and grow up socially and emotionally. As we look at the grounds of Archerland and think back to the time when we were freshmen we realize how South Side has moulded us into better citizens by building us mentally, physically, and socially.





Which Builds Better Citizens

Merle J. Abbett, Our Superintendent

Schools like South Side just couldn't function smoothly without a capable man like Dr. Merle J. Abbett as superintendent of schools. Although his job demands many obligations be fulfilled, he is never too busy to attend our special meetings or social activities. Such a wise and understanding man has been a valuable asset to our school system.

R. Nelson Snider, Our Principal

Always ready and willing to give a helping hand and a friendly smile to the students, parents, and teachers, our outstanding principal, R. Nelson Snider, deserves much of the credit for developing well-balanced students. His interest in each person as an individual, along with his superior intelligence and sense of fairness, makes everyone respect and admire him.

Pauline Van Gorder

Dean

Friendship and understanding are personified in our charming dean, Miss Pauline Van Gorder.

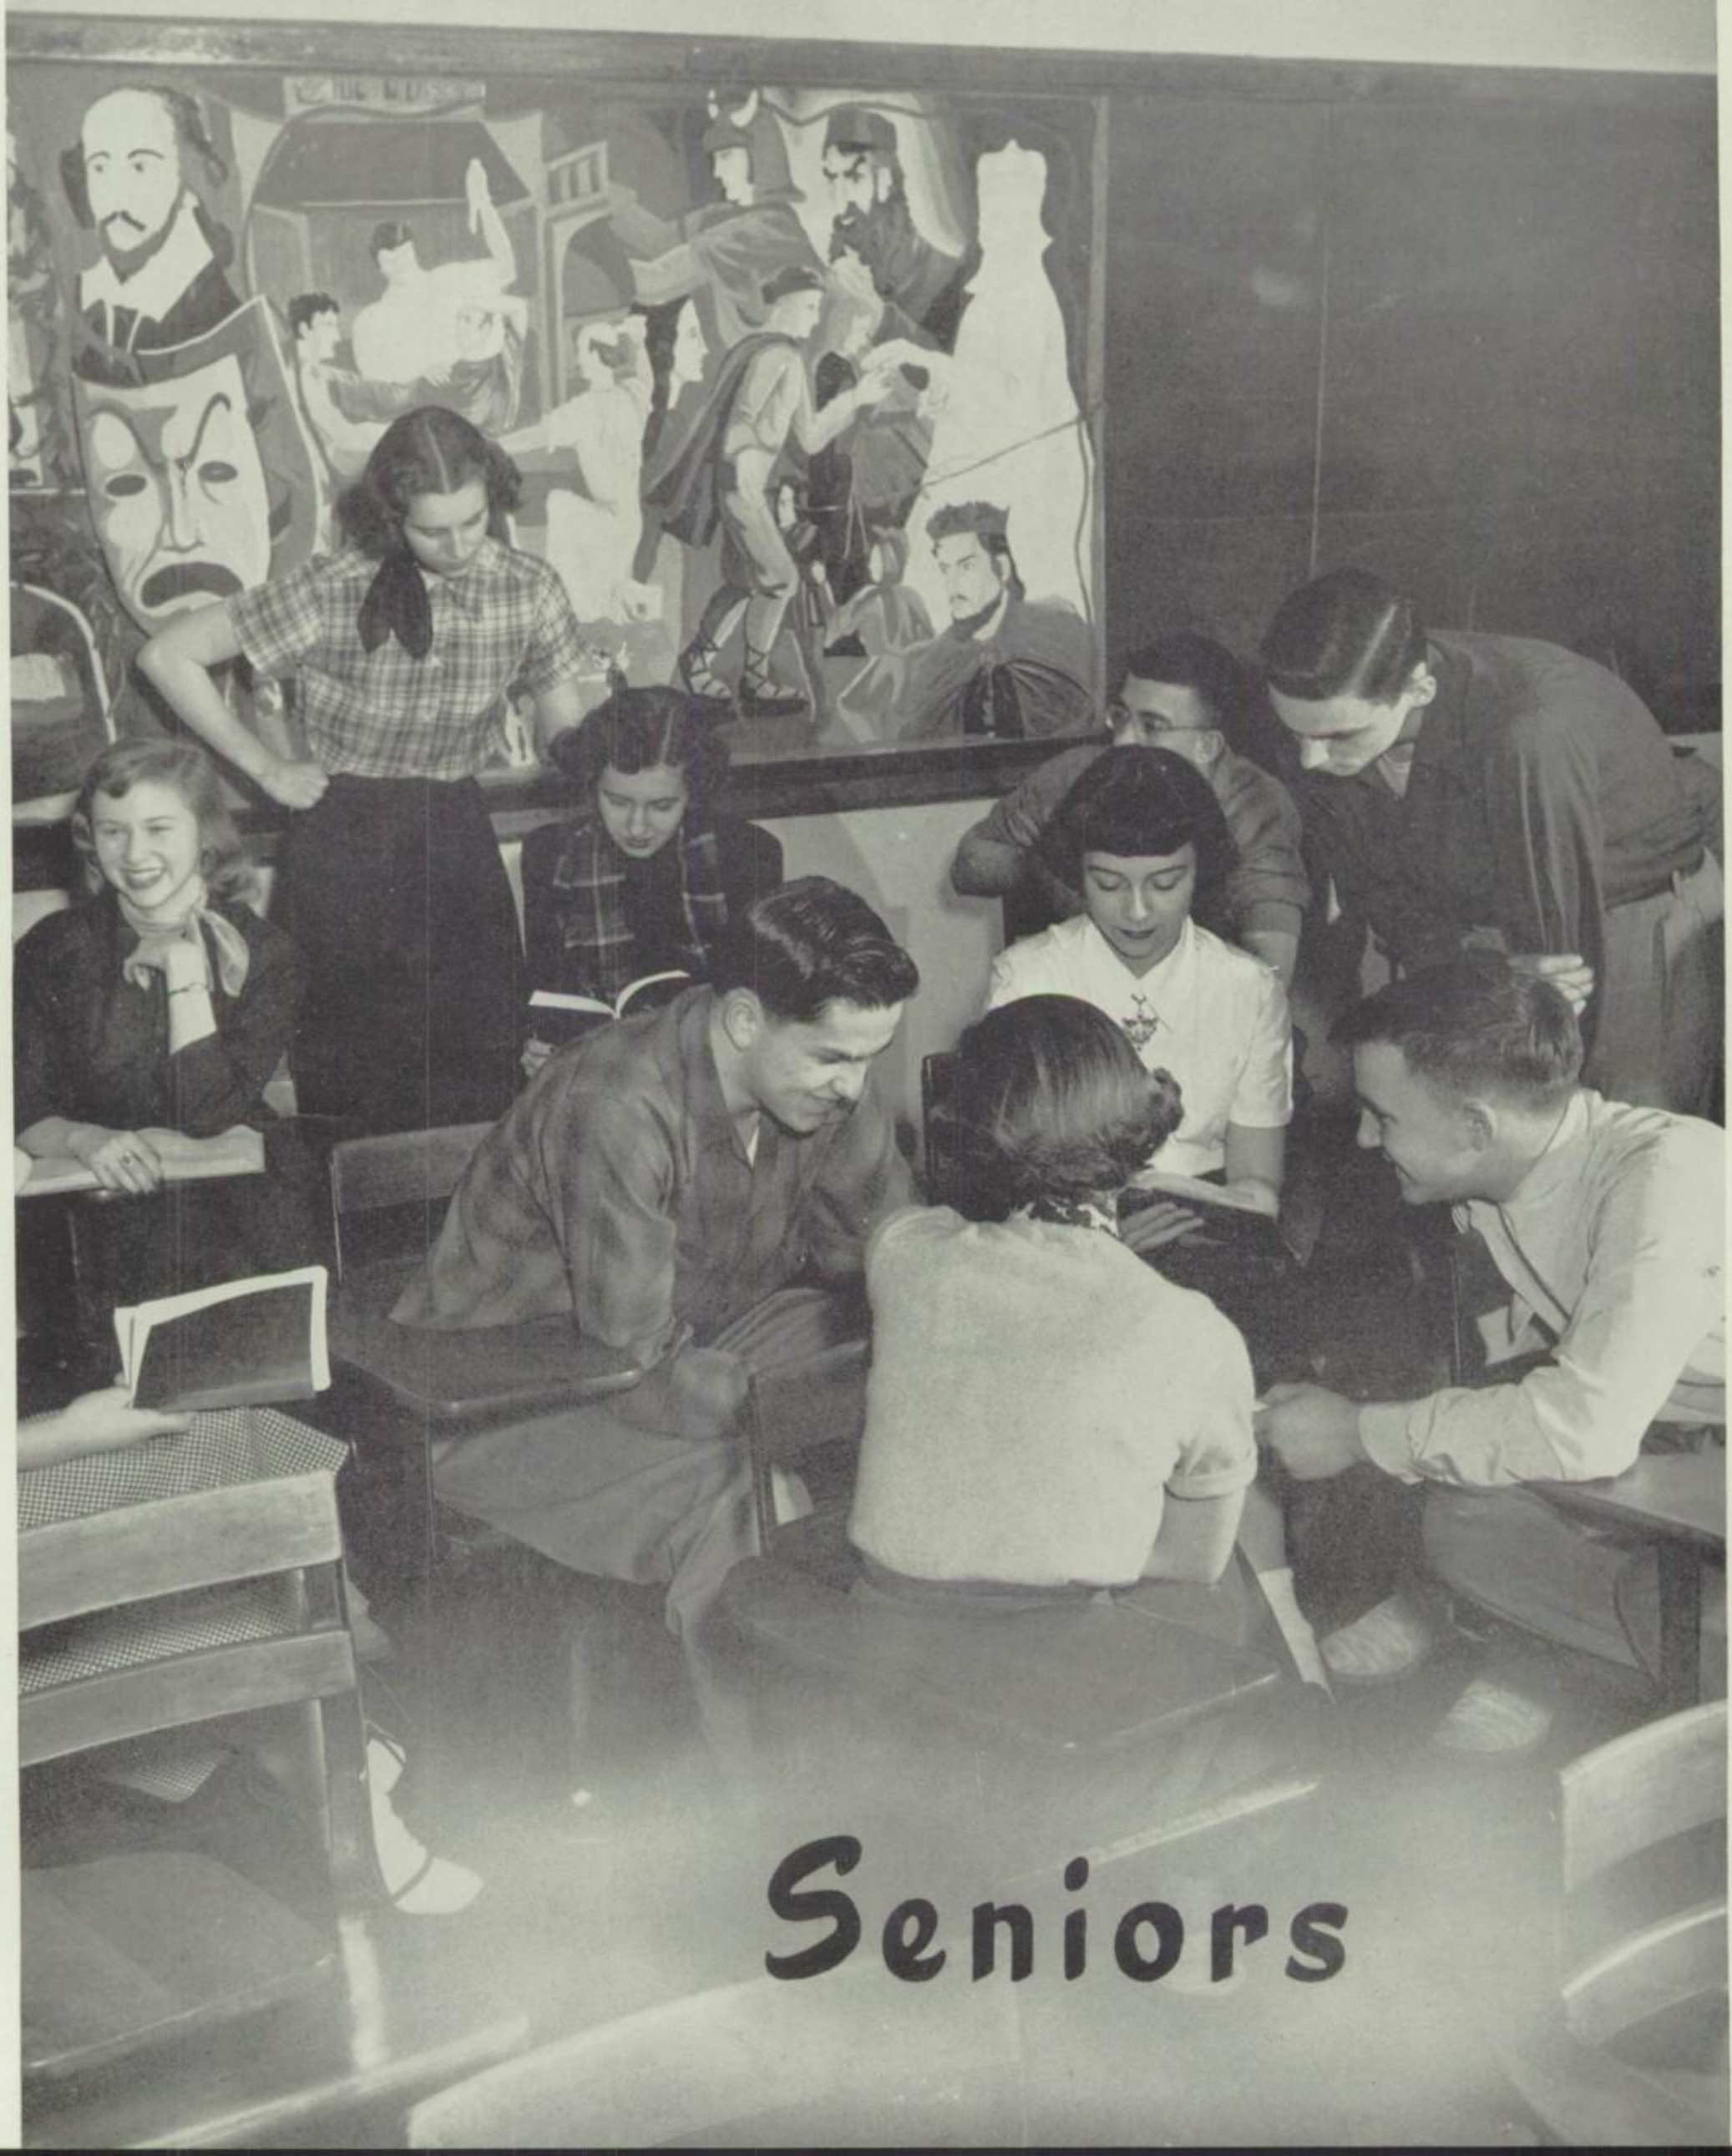
Ora Davis

Guidance Director

Aiming Archers along the right path, Ora M. Davis advises us on the prospects for future vocations.

Secretaries

Every task is pleasantly, promptly, and accurately done by our likable office staff, Frances Stobaugh, registrar, and Mrs. Veriene Nonneman. Their endeavor to assist others makes everyone's task easier.



Seniors

The officers we chose to lead us through our final year proved to be very capable. Sitting in the front row are Miss Mary Graham, adviser; Jim Ruble, social council; Dick Bragg, vice-president; Louie Mangels, president; and Dick Van Horn, social council; and in the back row are Gary Fryback, social council; Mr. Jake McClure, adviser; and John Sweet, secretary-treasurer.

Seniors . . .

Results of South Side's Building Plan

Graduation is upon us. Although some deeply regret leaving, we can all truthfully admit that it seems like such a short time ago that we entered the halls of South Side as freshmen and experienced so many new things.

As sophomores we elected our first class officers and chose Johnny Sweet, Gary Fryback, Louie Mangels, Max Seaman, Jackie Hurt, and Pat Dobson to guide us. The advisers were Mr. Jack Bobay and Miss Leona Zweig. Soon it came time for our first class event, the Sophomore Party, which we called "A Little Bird Told Me." All of us will recall the fun we had planning for it, decorating, and attending it.

Before we could realize, our third year was at hand; we were appropriately tagged "jaunty juniors." After choosing our male council, Gary Fryback, Johnny Sweet, Max Seaman, Louie Mangels, Dick Van Horn, Dick Bragg, and Allan Wuebbenhorst, came the Junior Banquet, which was suitably entitled "Passing Parade." Then came May when ever so many of us collaborated to make "May Magic," our prom, a lasting success. Mr. Bobay and Miss Matha Thompson were our able advisers that year.

At last we were seniors who were about to begin our final year, which would be crammed with enduring memories. First of all came the election of officers. Then in turn selected Miss Mary Graham and Mr. Jake McClure to give adult counsel. In December we greeted our parents, teachers, and friends at the Senior Reception, which was followed in several weeks by a very successful Alumni Dance.

"So Dear To Our Hearts," the Senior Banquet, was held on February 14. We will always remember the impressive speeches, class toast, food, and the decorations which depicted Valentine's Day and the things that were so dear to our hearts. Next came the Senior Play in April with acting superb.

The beginning of the end came all too soon when we elected our Ivy Queen and court, then attended the impressive ceremony. Recognition Day followed, at which we were honored for our accomplishments. We all gathered to receive a last word of advice at Baccalaureate services. Our final social event was the beautifully decorated Senior Dance of which fond recollections will permanently be had.

As we were handed our diplomas and descended the steps at Commencement, June 4, each of us felt that now he or she was ready to embark on a career to his own choosing with the satisfaction that South Side had built her Class of 1952 mentally, physically, and socially.

Valedictorian

James F. Davis, with an average of 96.5, was named valedictorian of the class of 1952. Jim was outstanding in extra-curricular activities as well as scholarship. He participated in intramural sports, varsity tennis, Rifle Club, and Service. He was secretary of Hi-Y, president of Math-Science and 1500 Club, and Totem and Times sports editor. Besides being elected to Quill and Scroll and National Honor Society, he was a Junior Rotarian and received biology, general history, physics, and Latin recognition. In his sophomore and junior years he took first place in the Chamber of Commerce Essay contests.

Salutatorian

Donna Jean Roebel was salutatorian with a four-year average of 95.81. She was a member of Wranglers, Art Club, Library Club, Math-Science, Service, and advanced modern ballet. She was vice-president of Philo, president of 36 Workshop, Totem faculty editor, and Times circulation manager. Donna was elected to Quill and Scroll and National Honor Society, recognized in history, and named a winner in the Chamber of Commerce Essay contest.

South Side Guided Them

Each year not more than fifteen per cent of the graduating class is chosen for membership in the National Honor Society. Students are chosen by the faculty on the basis of Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service.

A student must be in the upper third of his class in order to be eligible for the honor and must be outstanding not only in the classroom, but in extra-curricular activities in order to be elected by the society.

And Chose Them for N. H. S.

Popular Products

Remember October when we filled out our choices for class personalities on the poll sheets? All year long the question that has been in the back of all our minds was that of who would receive these honors; and, now, here are the results.

In the top snap, listening to the radio, are Jackie Hurt, who was elected "the cutest girl," and Johnny Sweet, "the most handsome boy" and "the best boy athlete."

Janie Hattendorf is attempting to ward off Louie Mangels' snowball attack in the middle picture. Janie and Louie have been chosen "the girl and boy with the best personalities" and "the girl and boy who have done the most for the school."

The seniors certainly don't lack music makers. At the bottom right Georgette Gettel and Fred Stephani, our best boy and girl musicians, are preparing for a little harmonizing.

Of Our Class

Boys usually complain about doing dishes, but from the looks of things in the top picture they don't seem to mind it too much. Helping during the senior reception, left to right, are Max Seaman, Jerry Pontius, Bill Osha, Warren Anderson, Maurice Forkert, Allan Wuebbenhorst, Jerry Augspurger, Cliff Gorham, and Dave Heine.

Talking over the fundamentals of public speaking and athletics are Jim Lontz, "best boy speaker;" Maxine Blanks, "best girl athlete;" and Lois Powell, "best girl speaker." Jim, by the way, received first place in the state in a radio division contest at the Ball State Teachers' College speech meet. Lois won the Randolph Jacobs trophy for service work.

Bill Hoewischer, our class clown, finally settled down for a few minutes to watch the birdie in the lower right picture. Marilyn Dunifon was voted "the most perfect lady" and Gene Beeler was chosen "the most perfect gentleman."

Senior Activities Show Our Strength

Upper left: The Senior Reception gives our parents a chance to meet our class officers, class advisers, classmates, and their parents.

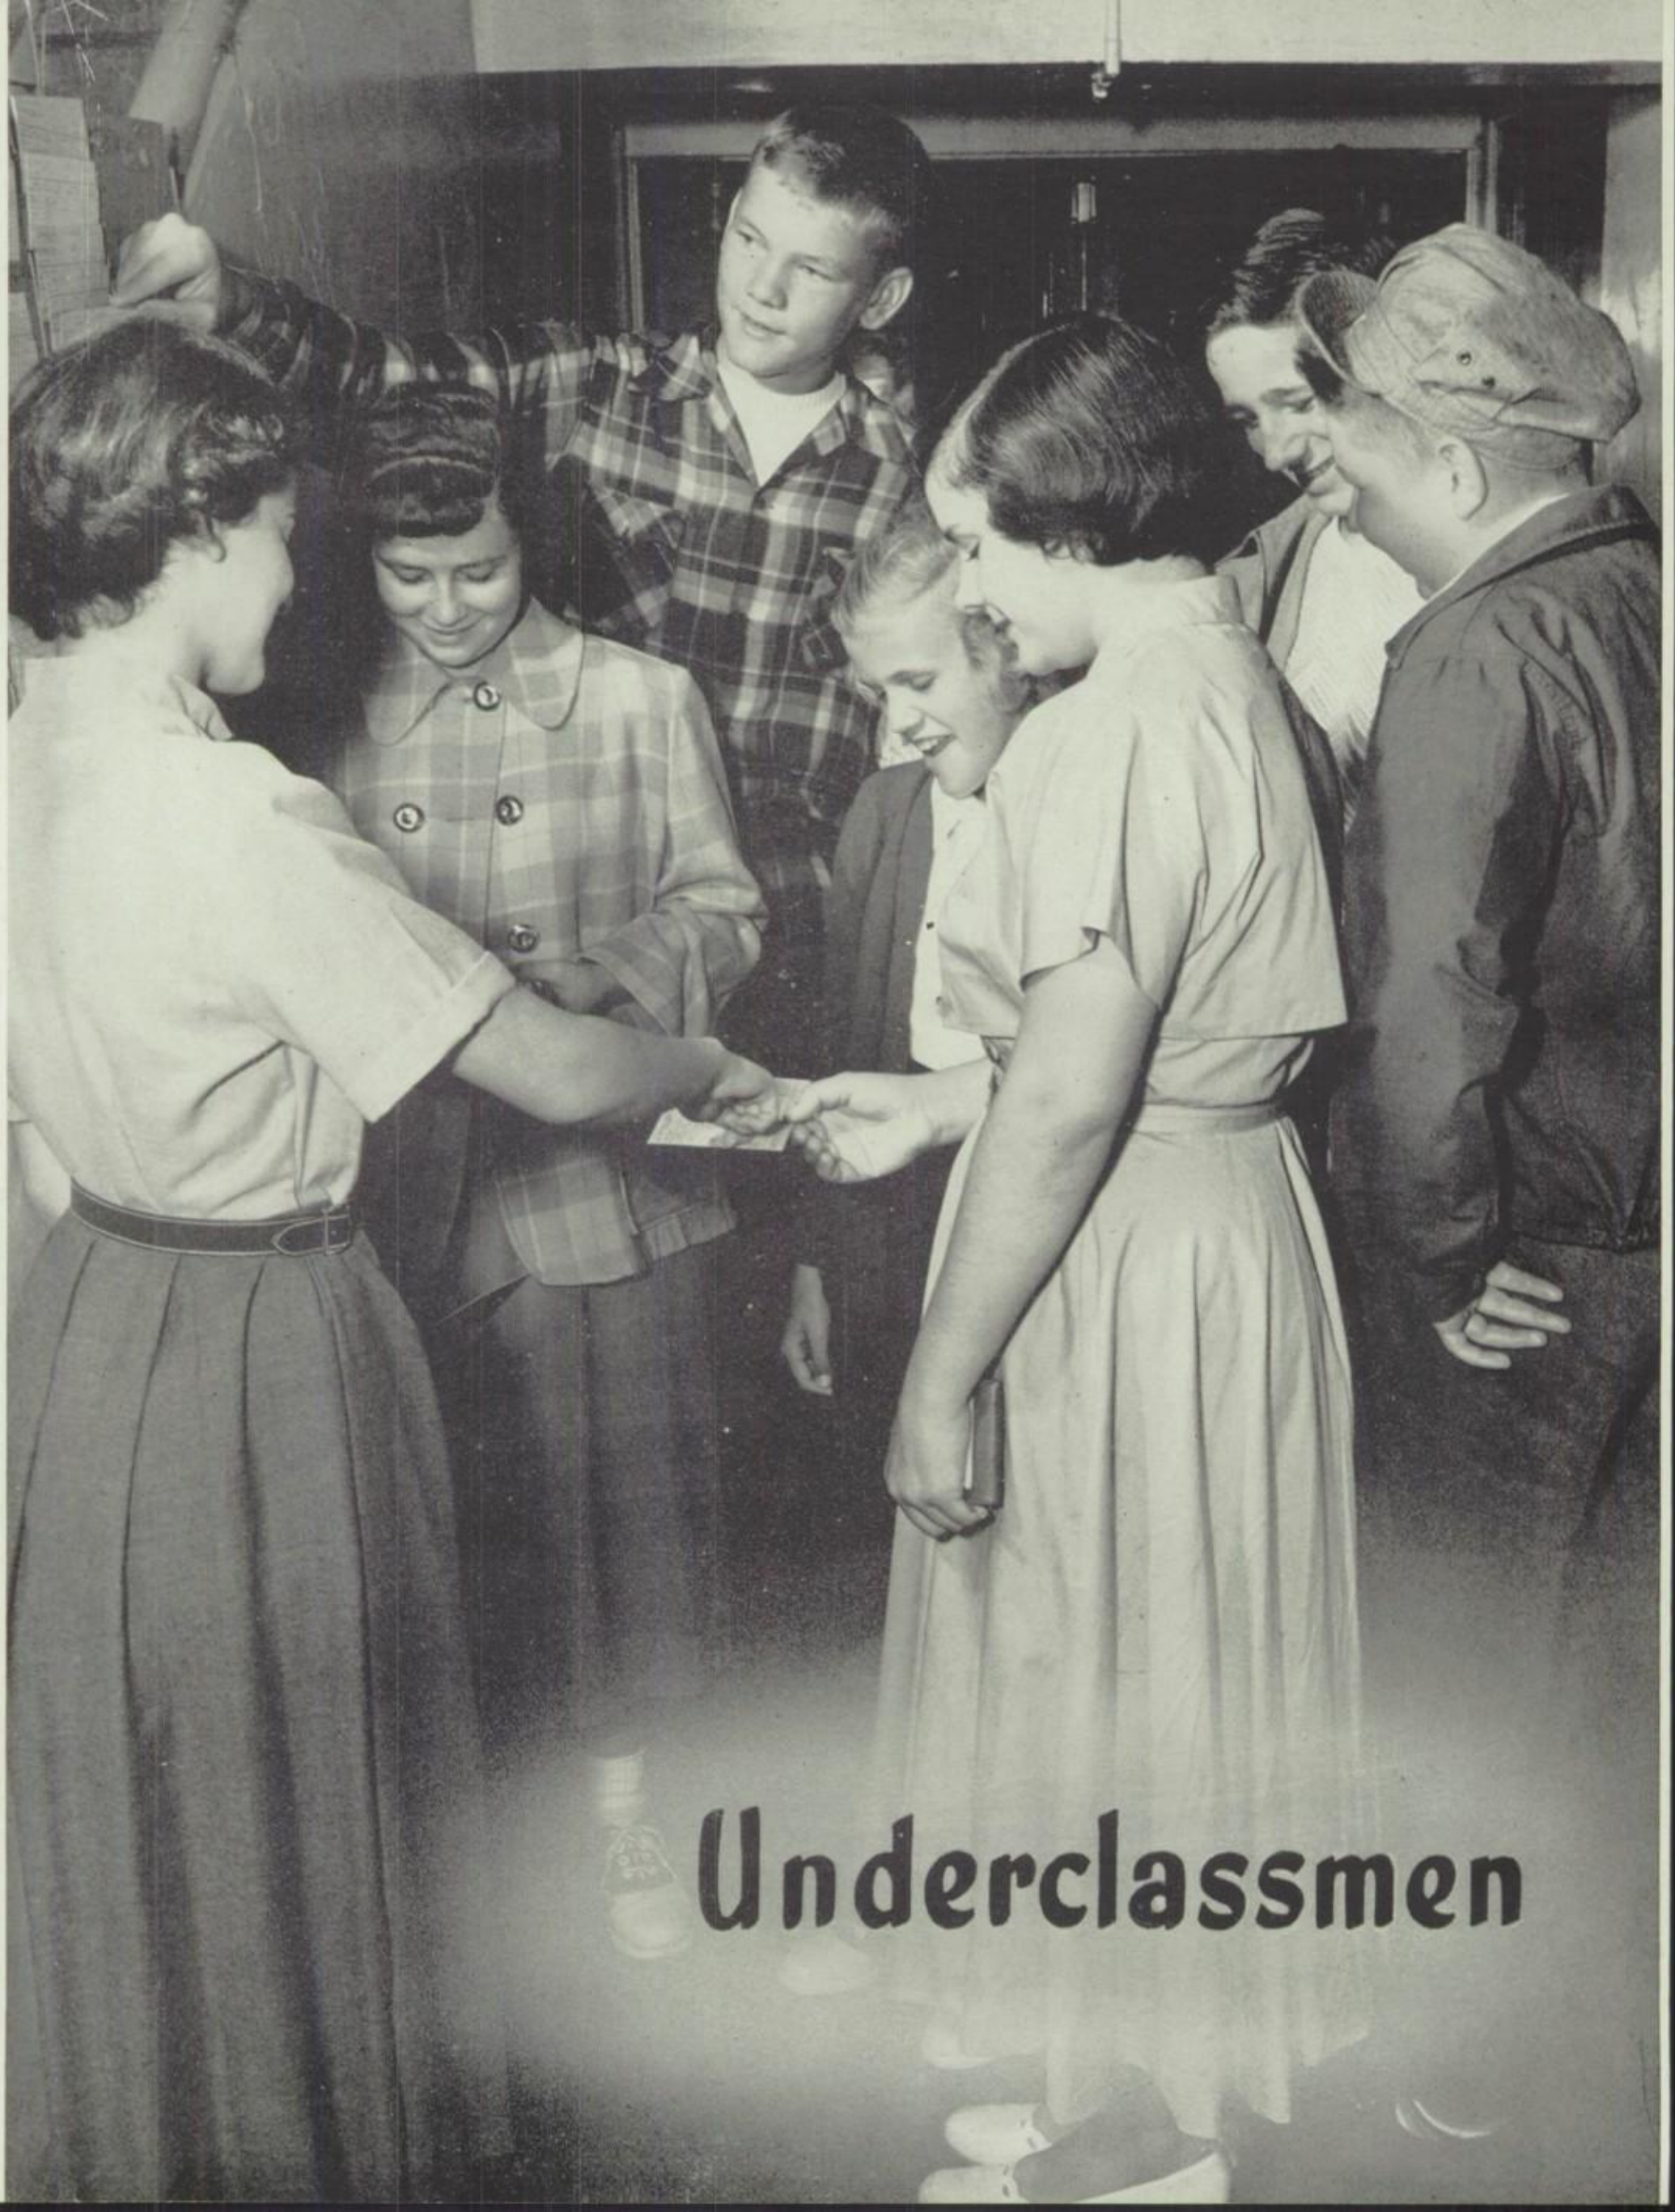
Lower left: The boys' quartet, comprised of Melvin Lora, Ronald Sonius, Jim Lontz, and Albert Fisher, helped supply entertainment at our senior banquet, "So Dear To Our Hearts."

Lower right: Recognition Day is one of the highlights of our senior year.



Underclassmen

Juniors . . .

Is it a rosy future for the class that these three poised, confident juniors visualize? If so, sure to do their part, as in the past, are Carol Schneider, voted by her fellow classmates as the "girl with the most pleasing personality" as well as "girl who has done most for the school"; Carol Bowser, "best girl athlete"; and Harold Varketta, named "boy most likely to succeed."

Two important characters in the Class of 1953's success story are Sylvia Huss, "girl most likely to succeed", and Dave Talarico, who tied with Harold as "boy most likely to succeed."

At right Ellen Hoham and Jack Johnson take time out to "look their best" for the camera. For this pair, that shouldn't be too hard to do, having been honored with the titles of "cutest girl" and "most handsome boy" in the junior class.

Happy to Remain at South Side

The juniors with their capable officers leading them, began their third year's activities with the exciting Junior Banquet, "Showboat."

The biggest event for the juniors came when their Junior Prom rolled around. "Evening in Paris" was the theme which was carried out through Parisian scenes such as the Eiffel Tower.

The class is looking forward to another bigger and better year during the time that they are seniors. They have shown that they have realized the power South Side has to build them mentally and physically.

Lower right: Betsy Waterfield and John Erwin copped the titles of "Best girl musician" and "Best boy musician."

Joyce Davis, Lou Gerig, and David Stonehill, in the center picture, smile brightly about their honors. Joyce was selected the girl most likely to succeed, and Lou was named best boy musician. David was chosen best boy speaker, the boy most likely to succeed, and the boy who has done the most for his school. Danvers, Massachusetts certainly received a talented boy when David moved to that city.

Pictured in the lower left corner, Charlie Gibbs proves that he can play the piano as well as be the most handsome boy in the class. Little Nancy Kierspe watches intently as she tries to keep her mind on the lessons and off Charlie! Marjorie Faulkner, the class's cutest girl, laughs over Charlie's shoulder. Nancy tied for the best girl speaker with Carol Cutshall and also won the title of the girl who has done the most for her school.

Realize South's Building Power

As the sophomore class of 1955 completes the half-way mark of their four years at South Side, they can look back at the many experiences, wonderful times, and numerous opportunities, and yet foresee the two "great years" as upperclassmen ahead.

The only affair of the class was the very successful Sophomore Party. All class members will agree that it was enjoyment to the "nth" degree and was a party that will linger in the memories of all.

Clown of all clowns is 1955's own Jimmy Wilson. Whether it be jokes or drums, Jimmy's tops. With him are Mary Jayne Somers and Jack Kern, the athletic-minded girl and boy of the class.

The class officers, aided by their capable advisers, Miss Lucy Osborne and Mr. Jack Morey, guided their class through a successful year. In the photograph above they are, from left to right, Charlie Gibbs, social council; Miss Osborne; Jim McGraw, social council; Sue Noble, secretary; Nancy Kierspe, vice-president; Freddy Augspurger, president; Mr. Morey, and Martha Ritter, social council.

Pictured in the upper picture is Nancy Epple, who was chosen "girl most likely to succeed", and Mary Ann Clark, "the girl who has done the most for the school." Bryan Boggess was elected the "boy most likely to succeed" and the "boy who has done the most for the school."

Julia Easterday, the most perfect lady, chats with Dick Brantingham and Mary Val Crouse. Dick won a duo title, "the most perfect gentleman" and "the most handsome boy"; while Mary Val copped the title of "cutest girl."

In the lower left photo, the personality kids consist of Nancy Evans, "the girl with the best personality"; Dale Smith, "the boy with the best personality"; and Ralph Elston, the class clown.

Norman Miner, Joan Nading, and Jane Zeiler, in the lower right picture, were elected "best boy speaker", "best girl speaker", and "best girl musician." Bill Grable, "best boy musician", was absent when the picture was taken.

Experience New Growth

The class of 1955 is certainly off to a good start. They have shown their talent and know-how by being the first freshman class in many years to stage a freshman party, which proved to be quite a success.

Get-acquainted and mixer games were led by Miss Helen Pohlmeyer, while the special feature of the evening was a talent show, starring the frosh with Guerry McNabb as master of ceremonies. Prizes were awarded to those who displayed the best talent, and refreshments were served.

Most of the decorating for the party was handled by Dorothy George, and Heather Nelson was the program chairman.

Right: Miss Pohlmeyer directs games at the freshman party, which was attended by 282 frosh.

Chuck Benz and Donna Hengsteler were chosen the "best boy and girl athletes" by their classmates.

Faculty

Good

WILLIAM APPLEGATE . . . English . . . Our well-versed teacher who can make English interesting, enjoyable, and educational.

Cyrano and Roxanne, better known as Herb Snyder and Janice Tackwell, read a scene from Rostand's famous play, while John Sweet and Dennis Jones listen for their cues.

ROSEMARY DELANCEY . . . English . . . The lady who knows her subject from noun to dangling participle.

EMMA KIEFER . . . English . . . Her pleasing personality and her knowledge make the English teachers and students glad to follow her leadership.

MARVEY KNIGGE . . . English . . . He is already an active member of the faculty as co-sponsor of 36 Workshop although this is his first year at South Side.

Mary Val Crouse and her classmates examine the theme correction placed on the blackboard.

SHIRLEY MALONEY . . . English . . . Another teacher who has been very successful during her first year at South Side.

JACK MOREY . . . English . . . The congenial man who knows how to be a friend to all.

Bud Marker, Chuck Estlick, Marleen Schmidt, and Bill Yoder seem very interested in what Mr. Moore is saying in speech class.

MAURICE MOORE . . . Public Speaking . . . His sense of humor and good naturedness give each beginning speaker ease and self-confidence.

Instruction . . .

LUCY OSBORNE . . . English . . . Our busy 36 Workshop sponsor and English teacher who always has time for an understanding of the individual student.

Miss Osborne leads the class in a discussion of Macbeth.

SUSEN PECK . . English . . . Her sweet smile endears her to all her pupils, as well as to the Meterite girls she guides.

BEULAH RINEHART . . . English . . . Her methods of instruction enliven her classes.

MARY LOU SINGER . . English . . . Another new teacher who has spent a busy and successful year as Philo sponsor.

Reading in class increases enjoyment, as Miss Singer knows.

GEORGE COLLYER . . History . . . He's done wonders not only in his classes but with the track team.

MARY CROWE . . History . . . A capable teacher of history whose students respect and admire her.

It is obvious that Miss Mary Crowe can make history a lot of fun.

MARION FEASEL . . History . . . "Feaz" is highly respected by the football boys for his ability and sense of fairness.

Good

J. H. McCLURE . . Social Science . . . Our able senior adviser who is equally able as a government teacher.

Jack Johnson proves that he knows his way around Africa.

R. HAZEL MILLER . . History . . . Although tiny in stature, her potent personality beams through her smile.

CLYDE PEIRCE . . . History . . . His own enthusiasm toward his subject is one of the things which makes his classes enjoyable.

Mr. Wilson's government class listens to a special report by Ed Clark.

JACK WEICKER . . History . . . Interesting manners of teaching make his classes educational.

WILBURN WILSON . . . Social Science . . . Neither maps nor books could ever do the excellent job of teaching that this gentleman does.

MARY GRAHAM . . Spanish . . . Her understanding and helpfulness as senior adviser will remain in the hearts of all who have known her.

Miss Oppelt's Latin classes are educational and fun.

GERTRUDE OPPELT . . . Latin . . . The capable leader who has made our language department the fine department that it is.

Facilities . . .

OLIVE PERKINS . . French . . . Her encouragement and consideration of her students make her a friend to all.

Barbara Boggess and other members of this French class are checking over test papers which have just been returned.

EDITH REIFF . . . Latin . . . This pedagogue has assumed an active part on the faculty of South Side.

EARL STERNER . . . Latin . . . This cheerful man is always ready to cooperate and encourage.

Sandra Hoewischer is passing out paper for the quiz which is next on the agenda in this Latin class.

GRACE WELTY . . . Latin . . . A fine teacher who has every student wanting to learn Latin because of her enthusiasm.

MABEL FORTNEY . . . Mathematics . . . The smile of this pleasant lady leads each of us to attempt our best to please her.

GEORGE ANNA HODGSON . . . Mathematics . . . Her list of friends and admirers is as long as some of the problems she solves.

Nancy Clark, Bob Davis, Jerry Pontius, and Bill Osha seem to understand the problem that is being discussed in Miss Fortney's algebra class.

RALPH MCCLAIN . . . Mathematics . . . This patient teacher has struggled with many students up the rocky road of Math and won.

Build

ROBERT PETTY . . . Mathematics . . . . This new teacher has made quite a hit as adviser of the cheerleaders.

Those great chemists, Bill Osha, Jerry Pontius, Bob Davis, and Lois Powell, seem to be on the brink of some breath-taking discovery.

PAUL SIDELL . . Mathematics . . . Mr. Sidell has done an excellent job in taking over the duties of head of the math department.

MABEL THORNE . . . Mathematics . . . Her love of flowers is symbolic of her sweet nature.

WARD GILBERT . . Chemistry . . . "WOG" knows how to make a hard subject enjoyable to his students.

Dan Howard and Sally Gilbert are making careful calculations in the physics lab.

ALBERT HEINE . . . Biology . . South Side couldn't get along without Mr. Heine's efficient handling of the book store.

MALCOLM HULTS . . Physics . . . His sense of humor gives his students additional reason to enjoy his class.

The botanists also make a careful study of their subject. These studious people are Dick Solomon, Ellen Hoham, Floretta Ford, and Marlene Schmidt.

ROBERT WEBER . Botany . . . He is the reason why so many girls are taking such an interest in plants and trees.

Students . . .

LLOYD WHELAN Physical Geography. . His efficient leadership of the Math-Science Club is appreciated by its members.

Mr. Lloyd Whelan points out some of the peculiarities of the solar system to a group of interested students.

BARBARA LEIF. . Home Economics. . Her girls learn that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

LUCY MELLEN . . . Home Economics . . . "Operation clockwork" in the cafeteria is the result of the capable supervision of this friendly teacher.

This group of girls is learning how to prepare a salad pleasing both to the eye and the stomach.

PEARL REHORST. . . Home Economics . . . The well-dressed girls in South Side testify to her skill as a home ec teacher.

MATHA THOMPSON. . Home Economics Her personality and good looks make her well liked by her students.

C. A. BEX . Industrial Arts. . . . An industrious and intelligent person is our friend Mr. Bex.

Dave Norton points out to Bob DeHaven, Byron Richardson, Bill Crumrine, and Allan Wuebbenhorst exactly how to lubricate a complicated machine.

JACK BOBAY. . Industrial Arts . A valuable asset to the Junior Class. He is their capable and cooperative sponsor.

Mentally

Janet Rison, Frank Frary, and Lou Ann Beauchamp watch Carol Hurter type her assignment in Miss Covalt's class.

Concentration, as illustrated by this class in business, is essential in learning.

Mr. Post is giving a helpful suggestion to Shirley Karns in bookkeeping class.

RAYMOND QUANCE . . . Wood . . . He is developing boys who will be handy at little jobs about the house.

JOHN BECKER, JR. . . . Business . . . A new and well-liked member of our faculty.

NELL COVALT . . . Typing . . . She capably develops nimbleness of fingers and mind in her class.

RUSSELL FURST . . . Clerical Practice . . . Our banking wouldn't reach such heights without his encouragement.

EVERETT HAVENS . . . Occupations . . . He has the ability to make studies seem easier.

EARL MURCH . . . Business . . . He instructs the future business men and women as head of the commercial department.

STANLEY POST . . . Business Education . . . His quiet mannerisms and thoughtful attitude take the edge off hard days.

Physically

ERNEST WALKER . . Business . . . Obtaining effective visual aids for learning is a difficult task which he accomplishes well.

One of the boys' gym classes is shown playing a thrilling game of speedball.

EDITH CROWE . . . Health . . . . She teaches us how to keep those rosy cheeks and remain healthy.

LOUIS BRINER . . . Physical Education . . . He rates tops with all the boys whom he has made "tops" in physical fitness.

Members of the girls' dance class are shown practicing for the annual spring show.

ALICE KEEGAN . . Physical Education . . . Dancing under her able instruction is thoroughly enjoyable.

HELEN POHLMEYER . Physical Education . . . With the help of her partner she makes our spring show outstanding.

DORSA YODER . . Health . . . He's a handy man to have around in case of injury or sickness.

Mr. Stebing tells the girls exactly how a car operates. If any of the students from a driving class have any motor trouble they will at least know where to look.

GLEN STEBING . Driving . With more instructors like him we would surely have less automobile accidents.

Socially

LESTER HOSTETLER . . Choir . . . . There's music in the air when "Hos" has those trained voices working.

Individual talents are developed through art work.

ROBERT DRUMMOND . Band, Orchestra . Precision marching and inspiring music are the results of his constant training.

RUTH FLECK . . . Art . . . . The future Di Vincis and Raphaels have her to thank for that early development of skill.

ERMA DOCHTERMAN . . . . Attendance, Study Hall . . She does a remarkable job in keeping the attendance records straight as well as the students.

An atmosphere conducive to study prevails in the library.

EMMA SHOUP Librarian . . . Her understanding and hard work realized and appreciated by all of the Archers.

ROWENA HARVEY . Journalism, Director of City School Publications . . . A real organizer. She knows how the work should be done and how to get it that way.

Reading copy in the Times Room is important in the production of a prize-winning school paper.

DONALD REICHERT . Physical Education . . . A former Archer who has really made good as our coach.

Football Builds Cooperation on the Field

Coach Marion Feasel

Marion Feasel

Plenty of team spirit and gridiron fight but not quite enough punch in decisive moments! That is South's 1951 football squad. The Archers had quite a bit of trouble all season in fighting injuries, top-notch opponents and that fickle Lady Luck. Finishing with a 2 win - 7 loss record, the Feaselmen managed to snag the last two games of the season to keep a goose-egg out of the "win" column.

On that cold, muddy afternoon of October 27, the Green tangled with a big, experienced, and highly-rated Central Catholic eleven. Playing as definite underdogs, South packed all they had into this one match and blanked the Irish 13-0. It was a little late in the season to start rolling but at least the Green had developed into a good squad.

This year's success on the gridiron wasn't due to one or two outstanding players but to a strong, well-rounded team. Big Don Rife, a junior and the team's most valuable player, supplied the tailback punch. Rugged Allan Wuebbenhorst and speedy Dick Van Horn played the halfback positions and both lived up to the high standards of former Archer backfieldmen. Louie Mangels rounded out the backfield in capably managing the squad from the all-important quarterback slot.

Basketball Produces Better Sporsmanship

Coach Don Reichert

Under the guiding hand of Mr. Don Reichert, South's new coach and former Archer cage star, the Bowmen marched through a season of ups and downs; but they finally ended up with a respectable five.

We'll never forget the marvelous set-shooting and dribbling of Dick Bragg, the team's smallest regular. Nor will we overlook the dynamic driving of big John Sweet, Dave Heine's cool playing in tight positions, or Jim Ruble's height, which was used to every advantage.

Upper right: Dick Bragg's lay-up is skillfully blocked by North's Froncie Gutman. Dave Heine (25) and Keith Saylor (21) watch the ball longingly.

Lower left: Big George Simmons seems to be in deep trouble as Jim Ruble (15) and Jack Kern hem him in. Dick Bragg (24) and Jim Craig (10) are seen in the back court.

Lower right: South Side's John Sweet leaps into the air for another one of his under-handed lay-ups. Pres Brown (33) and Warren Fisher of North attempt to stop his shot.

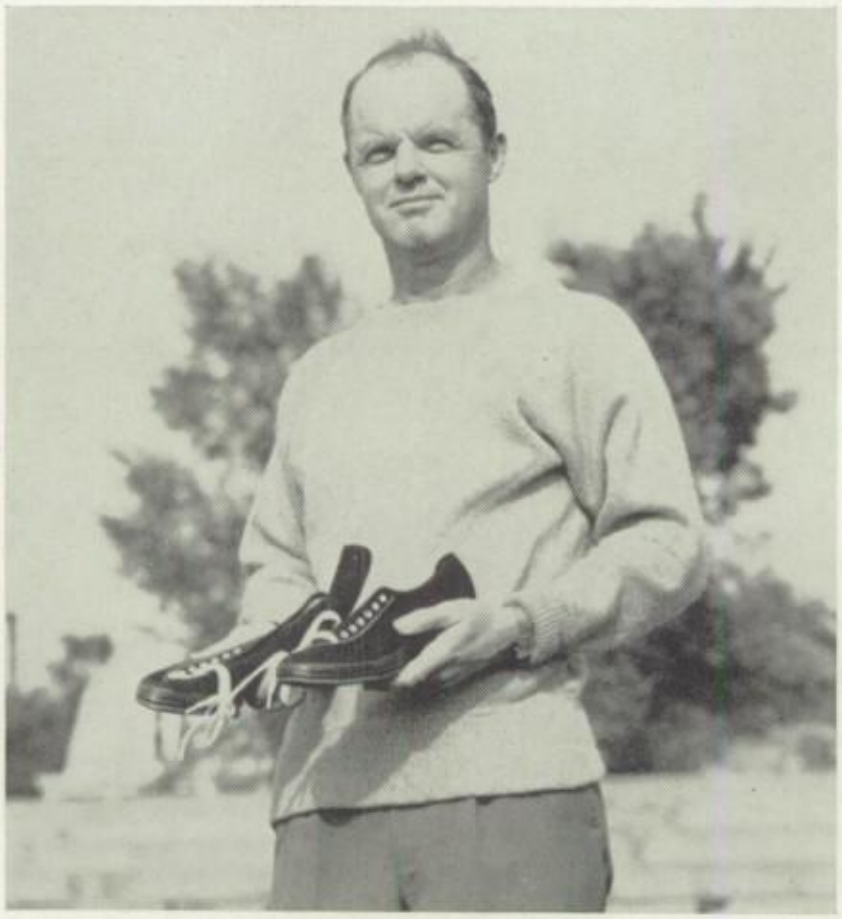
Track Sets the School's Pace



Mr. George Collyer

With a well-balanced squad the 1952 Archer cindermen glided through another of their successful seasons. Coach George Collyer, working with several lettermen and many inexperienced tracksters, has once again held up the name of South Side on local and distant cinders.

The triple threat power of Warren Anderson combined with the double punch of Dick Van Horn provided the Green with a good number of points in every meet. "Andy" ran the low and high hurdles and participated in the high jump, while Dick consistently won the century and broad jump.

Max Seaman and Bob Davis were the top 880 runners, and Ed Clark and Al Wuebbenhorst were the team's star quarter milers. Jim LaBrash and Dick Johnson, ace cross-country runners, held down the mile run in good shape.

In field events, the Bowmen can by no means be counted out. Dave Heine and Don Rife tossed the shot while Bob Garrison and Dick Brantingham took care of the pole vault, giving South a winning punch from the field.

Intramural—Helps Build Students' Bodies

Sports are the chief interest of many South Side boys; and, since only a few boys are able to make the grade of varsity sports, intramural gives them the opportunity to display their skill. It also gives the boys something to do after their long day of studies is past. Boys may participate in one or all of the wide line of intramural sports including volleyball, tag football, track, softball, handball, golf, and tennis. Competition in the many sports is divided according to the three weight divisions, light, middle, and heavyweight.

Intramural sports were founded at South by Mr. Louis Briner in 1929. His ability to work with the boys in the physical education department, which he heads, and his tireless effort have made him a popular member of our faculty.

Tennis was the first fall sport to be enjoyed by the intramural boys. Mike Brutton, Dave Gustafson, and Tom Arnold were tops in this sport while Jack Harshman and Tom Arnold were best in the horseshoe tournament. After these sports, intramural tag football came into the spotlight. The top scorers of the season were Jack Harshman, Pat Manning, and Jim Russel.

The boys next got a chance to participate in that ever popular sport, basketball. The FFF of A Number 2's with top scorers Jim LaBrash and Jim Croxton were basketball champions after many close games. At the same time, Harold Gordent gaint the title in the middleweight handball tourney and Roger Glass was badminton champion in the same class. Merwin Bryan was lightweight badminton champ.

Next on the schedule was the volleyball tournament. The Cowboys with such great players as Don Johnson, John Adamonis, and Jack Kern, captured the heavyweight championship. After this sport came giant volleyball, track, and softball, which, as always, drew many participants and spectators.

Many boys were awarded letters for gaining 125 points and more through participation in the program. This award system for intramural sports is the only one of its kind in Fort Wayne.

There is no doubt that this large organization, which urges all boys to participate in sports, builds boys physically and helps them to display better sportsmanship.

The boys who served as basketball managers were Dick Cashman and Don McBride.

GAA—Guides Girls' Growth

Once again the activities of the Girl's Athletic Association have come to a successful close. Many numerals, letters, and pins have been awarded to those girls who have acquired 300, 1500, and 2000 points; and this year the name of Maxine Blanks, the girl having the most points, was engraved on the high-point plaque. The purpose of GAA is to form an organization for creating fun, as well as aiding a girl's growth physically, mentally, and socially.

Speedball was the first in the series of activities scheduled in the GAA date book. Dorothy Meyer's seniors and Nancy Epple's freshmen captured the honors in this sport.

After the seniors captured the basketball crown and the freshman winner had been decided, the honor tournament was held. In this tournament each class selected eight members to represent them, and after many close scrapes the seniors defeated the underclassmen.

"Through the Looking Glass" served as the theme for the recognition potluck held in January. Then the fancy turned to volleyball. It seems as if the seniors just can't be beaten, for again they captured the crown in this event, while Sally Gibson's team took the honors in freshman GAA.

Many girls then turned out for tumbling, track, and the ever-popular sport, softball. Naturally, at various times during the year, the usual tournaments took place. The ping pong title went to Marilyn Baker, and Barbara Black worked her way to the victor's spot in the tennis tournament.

So with the Spring Show, "Gay Nineties", the GAA activities came to a close, with the underclassmen looking forward to the many good times in store for them next year.

GAA Activities

Upper right: Of course, the Spring Show would never be complete without those active advanced tumblers giving their portion of thrills. Cartwheels, fishflops, and headstands were only a small part of their performance.

Center right: The advanced dance group did a very interpretative dance to "Street Scene."

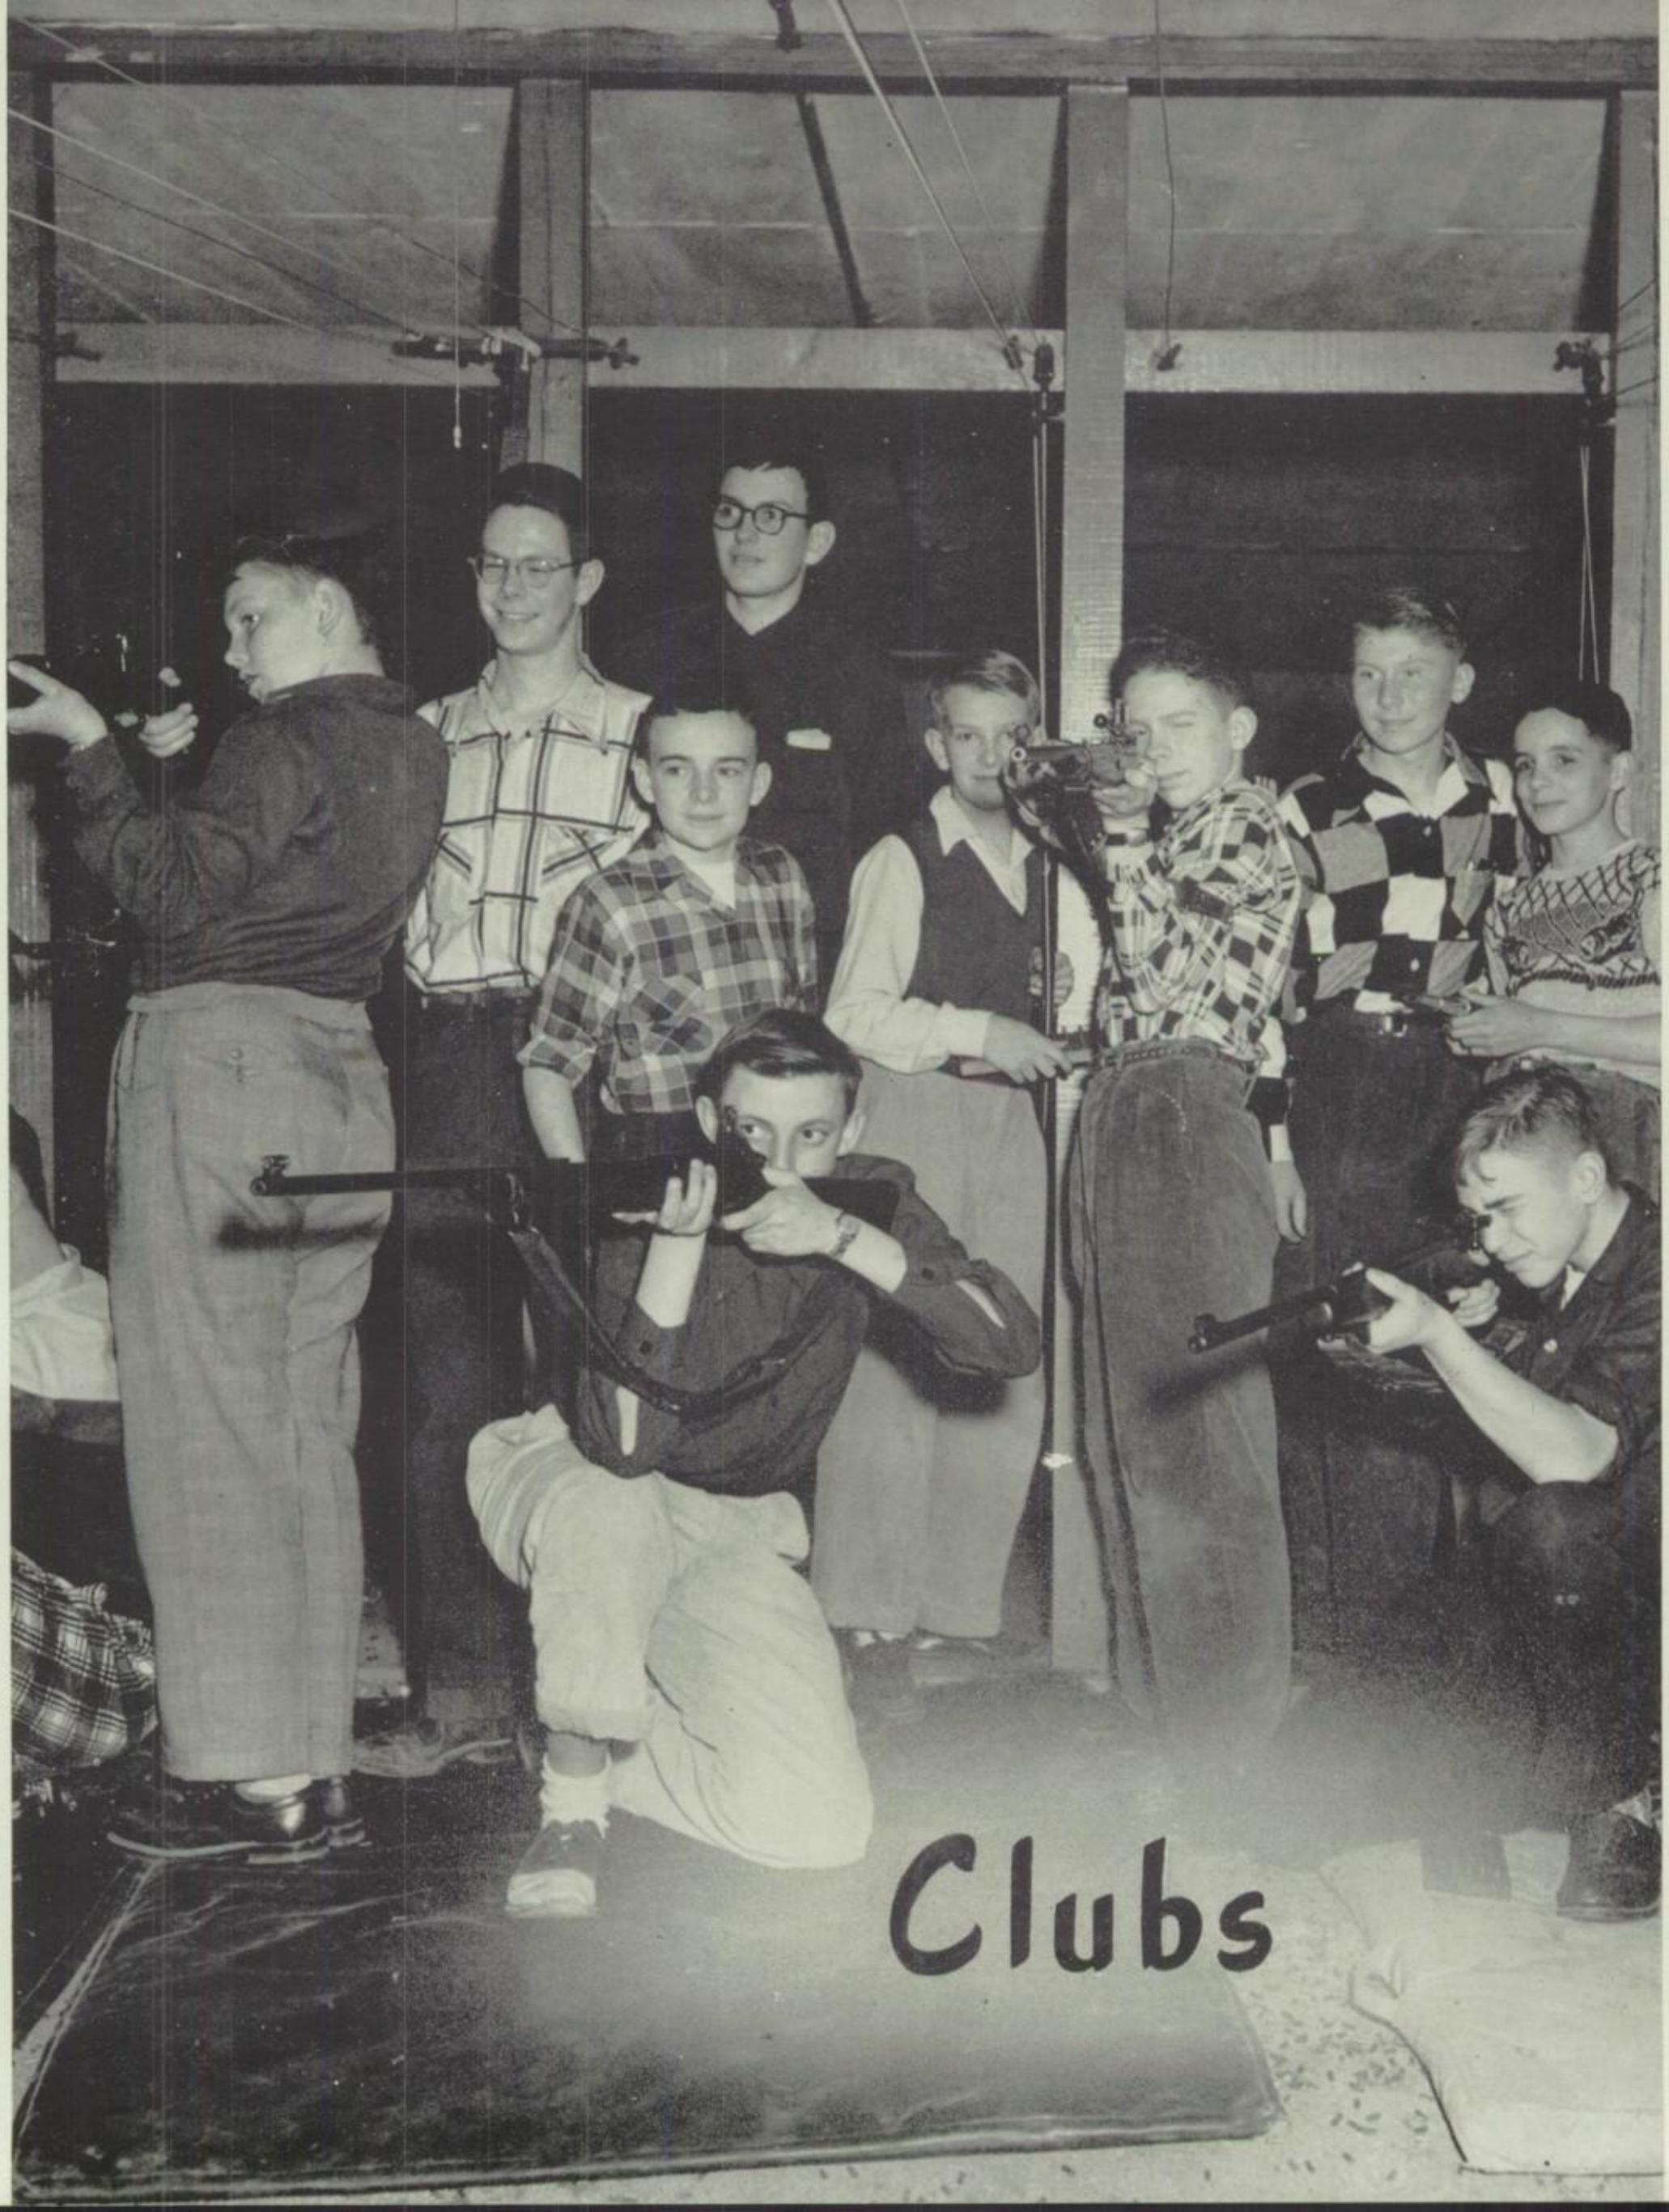
Wayne Scott

Athletic Director

E. Wayne Scott has an excellent knowledge of all sports; hence, his knowledge, his jolly personality, and his ability have made him an excellent head of the athletic department.

Student Managers

Without a group of boys to help with the sports equipment, the athletic department would be at a loss. Pictured here are Gerhard Salinger, Tom Graham, Don Dowty, Richard Bauer, who, along with Ronald Sonius and Allan Mead, served in the capacity of equipment managers.



Clubs

First row: Pierce, Wilks, Clark, Hattendorf, Miller, Wilkens, Singer, Kierspe, Nichols, N. Philo

Builds Literary Interests

Philo has brought pleasure and literary development to many sophomore, junior, and senior girls under the direction of their new sponsor, Miss Mary Lou Singer.

Each year the Philo girls have a full schedule of both literary and social events. The "Touchdown Twirl," the Saint Patrick's Day banquet, the Philo Mother-Daughter tea, and the joint meeting with her little sister, the Meterite Club, are highlights.

Math Science

Encourages Further Study

Math-Science, under the leadership of Mr. Lloyd Whelan and Mr. Paul Sidell, tends to encourage pupils in the further study of mathematics and science.

Outside speakers or students present demonstrations or speak on scientific subjects at the monthly Friday meetings.

Upper right: The members chose these officers to lead them: Jerry Pontius, treasurer; Ed Clark, first semester president; Jim Davis, second semester president; Judy Wilks, vice-president; and Jane Hattendorf, secretary.

Lower right: Dean R. C. Ruhl of Indiana Technical College explains to club members the connections that engineering has with mathematics and science.

Hi-Y—

Develops Christian Character

Mr. Robert Weber and his Hi-Y boys devoted many of their Monday evenings to interesting and worthwhile programs. The highlights of this club's events were the trip to Washington during spring vacation, the "Queen of Hearts Dance," the Hi-Y-Philo picnic, and the Best Girl Banquet.

Upper right: The fellows who saw that the Hi-Y dance was a success were, seated, John Mitchell, Dick Johnson, Jerry Pontius, Bob Seitz. Standing, Jim Davis, Ted Gugler, and Max Seaman.

So-Si-Y—

Fosters Friendship, Service

So-Si-Y, under the capable sponsorship of Miss Hazel Miller and Miss Beulah Rinehart, stresses service, character building, and friendship among junior and senior girls. So-Si-Y girls have done numerous outstanding projects throughout the year.

Upper right: Officers who guided So-Si-Y through a successful semester are, left to right, Janet Rison, secretary; Lois Powell, program chairman; Marilyn Dunifon, president; and Joan Weddle, treasurer.

Lower right: One of the big events of the year is the So-Si-Y Mother-Daughter Banquet pictured here.

Meterites—

Creates Love for Literature

The Meterite Club, Philo's little sister, has for its purpose the encouragement of literary interets in younger girls.

Upper left: Meterite officers are Gretchen Felger, treasurer, and Nancy Evans, president. Standing are Joan Nading, vice-president and Julia Easterday, secretary.

The annual highlight of the year is pinning the Quarter Century Club members. This year Miss Susen Peck, Meterite sponsor, entered this club. Pictured above are Mr. Wilburn Wilson, Helen Bohn, Mr. R. Nelson Snider, Joyce Davis, Miss Martha Pittenger, and Suzanne Noble.

USA—

Makes and Gives the Best

USA strives to give younger girls the chance to serve their school and do service projects for others. This club under the auspices of the YWCA gives the girls a chance to get together for wholesome fellowship.

Lower left: The officers that guided USA this year are Joyce Perry, vice-president; Suellen Smith, treasurer; Mary Ann Clark, president; and Jo Ann Rondot, secretary.

Workshop

Plans and Produces Assemblies

36 Workshop has again had a successful year under the leadership of Miss Lucy Osborne and Mr. Marvey Knigge. The Christmas assembly was a terrific hit just as were the other programs which 36 Workshop presented. The club not only presents assemblies and Talent Show but also has interesting meetings every other Thursday night.

Members of 36 Workshop in the first row, left to right: Carol Wissler, Marietta Shively, Pat Seider, Rita Shively, Sue Novitsky, Jim Suelzer, David Tinnes, Barbara Pio, Ann Landis, Patricia Cole, Carol Kitzmiller, Milka Gouloff, Joyce Purk. Second row: Lois Powell, Ronnie Helms, Jim Swank, Carol Nichols, Virginia Vosburgh, Donna Roebel, Miss Osborne, Joyce Miller, Marilyn Ellingwood, Carol Wilson, Barbara Evans, Marilyn Crouse, Betty Hughes, Janice Minder. Third row: Jim Stiegler, Carolyn Stalter, Gloria Beck, Mary Kappel, Sharon Durnell, Lois Gillespie, Diddy Pence, Maureen Isay, Nancy Kierspe, Dorothy Chicovsky, Marilyn Kurtz, Shirley Karns, Georgia Rider, Eileen Redman, Marcia Jacobs, Carol Thomas, Jane Oyer. Fourth row: Marcia Perry, Margaret Beck, Marjorie Mueller, Mary Lou Godfrey, Marcia Rupp, Gisella Freitag, Marlene Bloom, Frances Bagby, Carol Hendricks, Ann Dinius, Jackie Meyer, Gwen Hinton. Fifth row: Shirley Schweizer, Janet Rison, Dixie Hogg, Janice Schon, John Erwin, Wynn Cupp, David Bryant, Kenny Krick, Pat Manning, Terry Lomo, Herb Snyder, Mr. Knigge, David Suckow, Dianne Murray, Carol Schneider, Donna Lahrman, Betsy Burchard, June Smith, Mary Long.

Wranglers

Fosters Self Expression

Under the adviserships of Mr. Gene Moore, Wranglers has presented a full year of activities. The highlights of the season were the Freshman-Sophomore Speech Contest, the Purdue trip, trip to Ball State, the Wranglers picnic along with the bi-monthly intramembership competitions.

There is a lot of hard work connected with Wranglers, but also a lot of fun. The Wranglers dance proved this.

Dick Johnson, Donna Roebel, Carole Loriot, and Jim Lontz go over their scripts before leaving for a speech meet.

Jerry Andrew, Sylvia Huss, Johnny Jenkins, and Martha Ritter take time out to chat at Wranglers' after-game dance.

Band and Orchestra Guides Students' Musical Talents

Mr. Robert T. Drummond, Director

Once again, the band and orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond, has had a successful season. The band put on some spectacular marching demonstrations at both the football and basketball games along with their excellent playing. The orchestra, with the band, also performed beautifully at the four music assemblies.

Besides providing the school with good music, the band and orchestra with the choir present the annual Music Department Dance. The string ensemble provides music for many club meetings, PTA groups, and banquets. The Archers appreciate the hard work that must be put into any performance given by this section of the Music Department.

Any spectator at the basketball games can well remember the band's outstanding performances this year with their new field of lights. Various objects were formed by the band and majorettes with the use of different colored lights. The American flag, various school letters, and school symbols were formed by the use of these lights.

Right: The combo was a much-enjoyed addition to several of the pep sessions. John Erwin, Stan Greene, Bob Carrel, '51, Jimmy Wilson, and Fred Stephani are the members of this group.

Choir

Provides Excellent Music

The Concert Choir has presented many full concerts outside of school and at various places throughout the city along with the many assemblies that were held at school.

The South Side choir participated in the first Christ Child's festival at the Warsaw Street Market. Other concerts were at the West Creighton Christian Church, the Jewish Temple, and at the Good Friday services at the Paramount Theater.

Art Club

Aids Student Expression

The Art Club, one of our newer clubs, has as its major project the Art Bazaar and the display of pictures throughout the school. Mrs. Ruth Fleck and Miss Mary Edith Reiff are club sponsors.

Art Club members are working industriously at one of their meetings.

Members of Art Club study one of their many pictures which are displayed throughout the school. The members are Virginia Fleck, Marsha Walb, Donna Knigge, Joan Trader, and Sandra Harris.

Mrs. Fleck and Miss Reiff, along with Ila Jean Stiver, treasurer; Marsha Walb, vice-president; Joan Trader, president; and Lou Gerig, point recorder, are displaying some of the lovely tablecloths made for the Art Bazaar.

Service

Helps Students Help

Service Club, sponsored by Mr. Ora Davis, is a very beneficial organization to the school and teachers, for it enables students to help each other and faculty members by doing service work. The highlight of this club is the service banquet at which, this year, Lois Powell was awarded the Randolph Jacobs service trophy.

Library Club

Betters Our Bookshelves

The Library Club consists of the library staff which assists Miss Emma Shoup in the school library. The club meets once a month and has interesting meetings such as their play, picnic, and book reviews.

Lower right: Club officers are Mary Jane Vegors, president; Marcella Lee, vice-president; and Bill Clark, point recorder.

Lettermen

Athletic Leaders

Right: Mr. John Magnabosco, head football coach at Ball State Teachers' College, was the guest speaker at last year's Lettermen's Banquet.

Left: Bob Hinton and Miss Van Gorder enjoy the meal served at the banquet.

This outstanding group of boys, led by Mr. Ora Davis, has as big event of the year, the Lettermen's banquet. The lettermen also sponsored a dance this year, which was not too successful because of difficulty with the lights. The officers who guided this club during the year are Dick Van Horn, president; Gary Fryback, vice-president; Al Wuebbenhorst, secretary-treasurer; and John Sweet, sergeant-at-arms.

Rifle Club

Creates New Skills

Rifle Club aims to give its members instruction not found in an ordinary classroom. This club, under the capable direction of Mr. Quance, teaches boys the art of correctly caring for and using a rifle.

Times

Pictured at the left Miss Harvey seems to think that her "show" dog, Patsy, doesn't rate as highly with her as the general managers who guided The Times through another successful year. They are Janie Hattendorf, Joyce Miller, and Ann Von Gunten.

Upper left: Three others responsible for producing good newspapers were Pat Klenke, girls' sports editor; Marilyn Clymer, news editor; and Pat Kelso, news writer.

Consistent Publisher of Excellent Papers

There is never a dull moment in the Times room because the capable staff is constantly busy working on their first-class newspaper. The Times again received the highest honors in national and state contests including NSPA, CSPA, and Quill and Scroll.

The staff consists of around one hundred fifty students who put out a six to eight page paper weekly. Approximately 1650 papers are printed a week. The Times is not only distributed to the students at South Side who have subscriptions, but to numerous other subscribers outside of school.

Totem Tries to Tell the Year's Story

Work has been in progress since early summer to publish your 1952 Totem. A carefully selected group of seniors has put together the puzzling pictures, proof, and headlines which form this Totem.

But of course these students alone were not the only ones responsible for the book's success. Others were students whose subscriptions make the Totem possible, teachers who cooperated during the time pictures were taken, business representatives, and, of course, Miss Harvey, who gave the staff that extra push over rough places and supplied the technical knowledge.

Through its theme, "South Side Builds Students Mentally, Physically, and Socially", the 1952 Totem hopes to have given a complete picture of the year and actually shown how students have benefitted from this school's services.

The Fort Wayne Engraving Company made the cuts for the yearbook, and William Didier and Sons Printing Company printed the book. And finally, the finished books were distributed during study periods, and after school.
